About Advanced Myographic Technologies and CURO Diagnostics, ApS

Founded by Dr. Adrian P. Harrison, PhD in 2011, who recently contracted AMT as its exclusive distributor for CURO Diagnostics, ApS and is the creator of the world's most advanced portable, wireless, whole-body skeletal muscular testing system. CURO Diagnostics' mission is to enable universal access to superior medical acoustic diagnostic technology by using sensitive sensors to measure the pressure waves that skeletal muscles generate when they are active, and part of that mission is to enable the testing of every animal and human at each veterinary and human medical visit. Through its patented proprietary CURO App and ESTi™ Score and Diagnostic Report technology, AMT and CURO Diagnostics is paving the way for earlier detection and remote management of health conditions around the world. The all NEW and Improved CURO Mk II System can be purchased online by all approved practitioners worldwide at the AMT website store or by contacting sales.
